

Community Resources Brief

ODU Centers of Excellence (COEs)

The COEs provide Medication Assisted Treatment (MAT) for OUD and have created community-based care management teams to assist with care coordination and recovery support for their clients. The community-based care management teams consist of a diverse group of providers including Licensed Clinical Social Workers, counselors, Certified Recovery Specialists, nurses, peer navigators, care managers, and physicians. The care management teams work together to ensure that clients' care is coordinated across all domains and that all treatment and non-treatment needs are addressed.

PA Drug and Alcohol Single County Authorities

Single County Authorities (SCAs) organize drug and alcohol prevention and treatment services in their county. These programs, with their Case Managers and Certified Recovery Specialists, can help with treatment funding, assess the need for treatment or other services, and make referrals to match treatment and/or service needs. SCAs also have programs to distribute naloxone (typically at no cost).

The number for each county's SCA is available here:

PA Plans of Safe Care

When a provider identifies newborns up to 1 year of age affected by substances, the provider makes a notification to ChildLine and initiates a Plans of Safe Care (POSC) multi-disciplinary team meeting to initiate a POSC. A POSC lists and directs services and supports to ensure the safety and well-being of a substance-affected infant (SAI) and their caregivers. The County-based Offices of Children Youth and Families (CYF) receive the information from the state ChildLine and help to determine next steps. As a result, the details of this process may vary by county. For example, Allegheny County's process is for all providers to also make a referral to Hello Baby, which connects families to perinatal services and supports, in addition to notifying ChildLine.
